The Kumayama site (national historic site). The structure pictured is the largest of the more than 30 stacked-stone examples found across the Kumayama massif in Akaiwa city, Okayama prefecture. A square stone platform measuring almost 12 meters to a side was built atop the bedrock, followed by three tiers of stacked stone. There are openings on each side of the second tier and a pit on top of the third tier. The pit contained a ceramic cylindrical vessel (Tenri University Sankokan Museum) and a small, tri-colored glazed jar, which has been lost. These stone structures are considered to be a type of ancient stupa.
